Presenting . . .

ALMA MATER

Our thoughts are held in loving thrall
To this, our honored Hall.
Within these walls we've pondered o'er
The paths that lead to All.
The best that wisdom gives, we've got;
The prize belongs to all.
Our loyal friendship's flower divine
That bides in Blue and Gold.

Chorus

Then here's a rousing shout to her
And to her colors bold.
We'll e'er be true and loyal to
The noble Blue and Gold.

Dedication

"Look not mournfully into the past, it comes not back again. Wisely improve the present, it is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy future, without fear, and with a manly heart."

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

Today's future is the "Space Age." To those brave astronauts, who face the future "without fear and with a manly heart," and the many unknown others who have contributed to their successes, the 1963 Muhltz is dedicated.

Faculty

Mr. Lawrence Imboden, typing instructor. "That's right, I-M-B-O-D-E-N."

The Commercial Department is one of great importance to our school and its functions. This course administered bookkeeping, shorthand, business law, typing, and office practice along with everyday assignments. Students were engaged with the business staff for the purpose of the financial end of the Muhtohi and Observer.

Senior pupils, engaged in this particular course, took part in work experience. This included jobs in local industries and in this manner they became accustomed to the responsibilities as future jobholders. This experience gained by the girls was one of highest value. As a second task, the girls were each assigned to act as secretary to a faculty member and assist with their clerical work.

"Fourssore and seven years ago . . . oops! Wrong class." Miss Thelma Knauss teaches typing and shorthand.

"Don't tell me A doesn't come after B!" Mr. Norman Wismer, teacher of commercial subjects.

Commercial Department

The Law and Mr. Butz—Mr. Joseph Butz instructs a Business Law class.

Librarian

Director of Guidance

Muhlenberg's Library played an important role to the student for any information unknown to him or for the purpose of attaining greater knowledge. Knowledge is something that can never be taken from any individual. Thomas Carlyle once said, "A library is a poor man's university."

Mrs. Mary Jo Winings, librarian, returns misplaced book to its rightful position.

Miss Frances Rahn, guidance director, advises two students concerning their future plans.

"Sense and sensibility" were two factors stressed by our Guidance Counselor for the students' own benefits. "A friend in need is a friend indeed" and this department was foremost to students for guidance and problems. It equipped individuals with initiative and instilled confidence within them.

Mrs. Mildred Bodolsky instructs in writing research papers as she prepares her pupils for college life.

First and foremost in everyone's goal is the ability to converse and write intelligently with whomever you may come in contact. This desire was striven for in the English Department and gained through an itinerary consisting of grammar, vocabulary, composition work, literature, and journalism. Also included in this department was a World Literature course for all college-bound students wishing to increase their knowledge of great masterpieces of literature.

Miss Marcia Gehman eagerly stresses, much enthusiasm, proper English grammar and usage.

English Department

Miss Olive Tennant brightens her literature classes with a bit of humor.

Mr. Glenn Woods responds to students' reading of The Solid Gold Cadillac.

Mr. William Abramowicz gives personal assistance in English composition as well as adding a few moments of Latin instruction.

"Your feet, boys, your feet!" Mr. Donald Delp tries to teach the members of his class the fundamentals of soccer.

"You think you have troubles!" Miss Mary Jane Delp, physical education teacher, coaches the girls' basketball team during a time out.

Mr. Donald Fetterman, safety education instructor, can often be heard muttering, "Pedestrians are idiots!" as he conducts his classes.

A healthy body and mind are essential to every student in order to extend best efforts for all purposes. Many heights progressed and resulted in enjoyment in gym class and health courses were for the complete understanding of each individual. Driver training and safety education were great aids to future motorists and also for the benefits of future society. The Home Economics department developed sewing and cooking skills. This knowledge secured will be of use to any young girl preparing for her future life.

Miss Dorothy Boyer, home economics teacher, tries to persuade a student that the hemline should come, "just below the knees!"

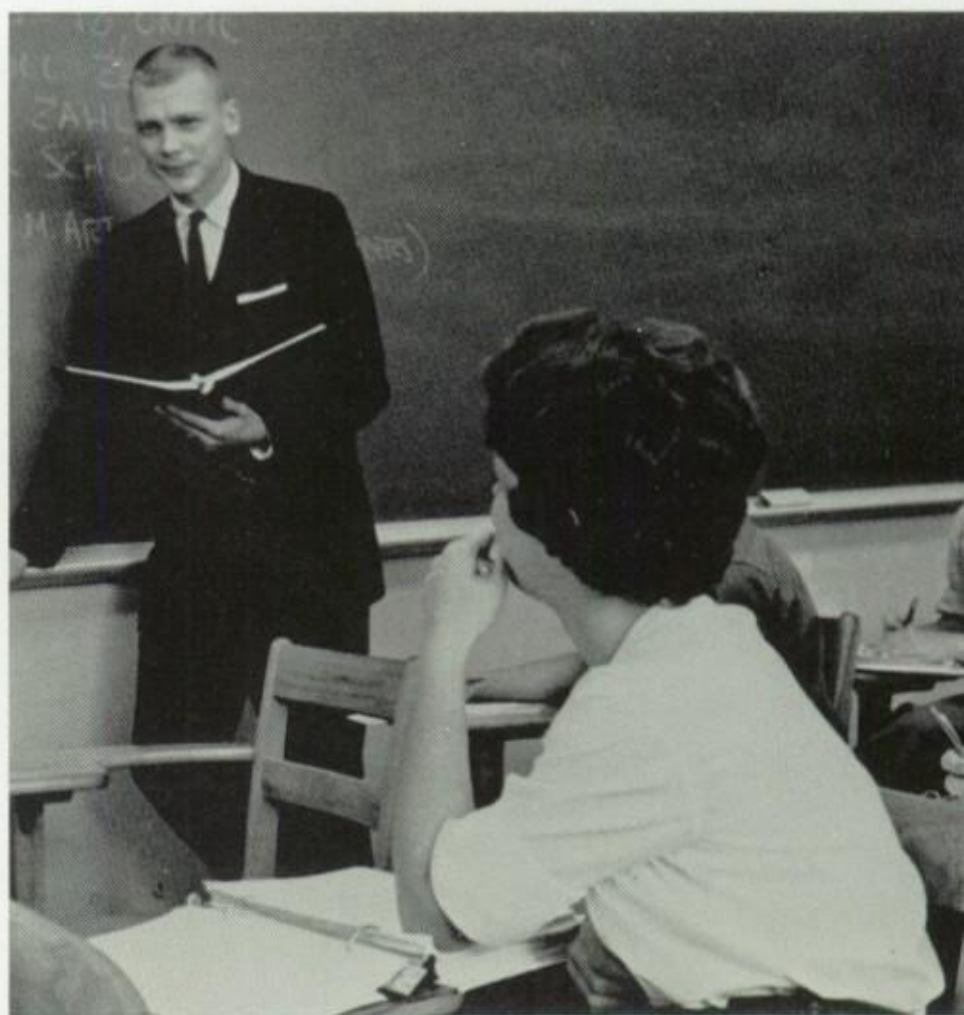

Physical Education, Driver Training and Home Economics

Mrs. Majorie Wagner, Latin II instructor, assists students with difficult conjugations.

The Foreign Language Department gave students the challenge to engross themselves in a language other than their own. Courses offered here were Latin, Spanish and a four-year German itinerary which some day may be of great value in a foreign country.

"Eins, Zwei, Drei"—Mr. Wilbert Wollenhaupt, German teacher, instructs ardent students.

Foreign Language Department

Mrs. Annette M. Marth, German and Spanish teacher, reminds a student to turn all volume off before leaving the language lab.

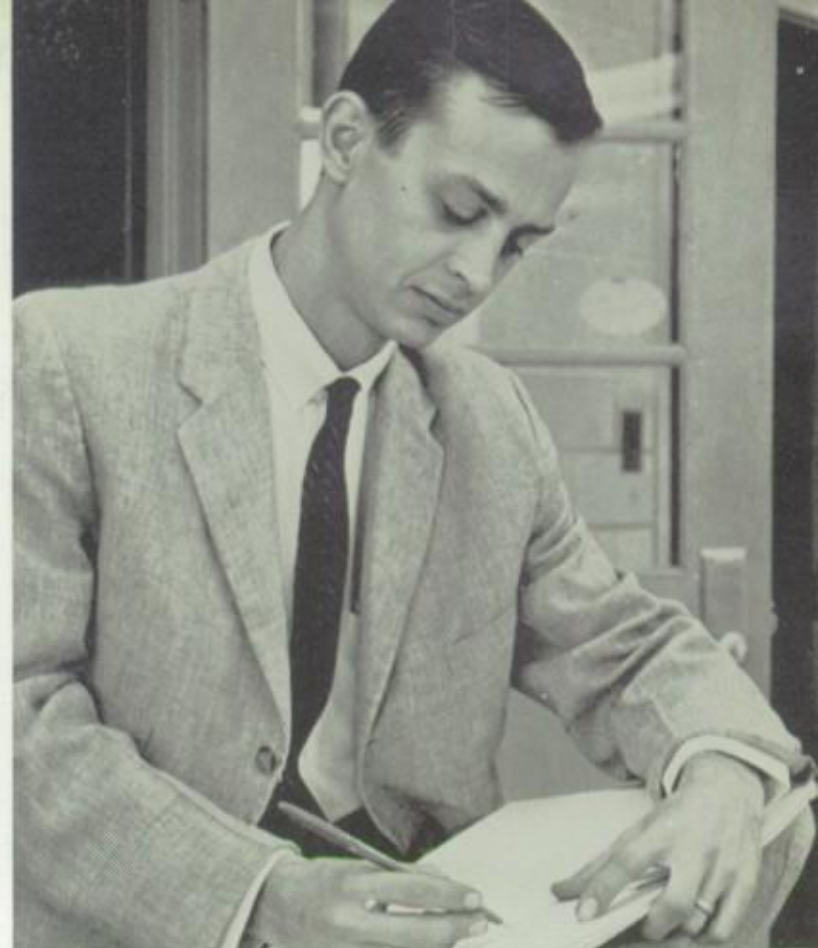

Industrial Arts Department

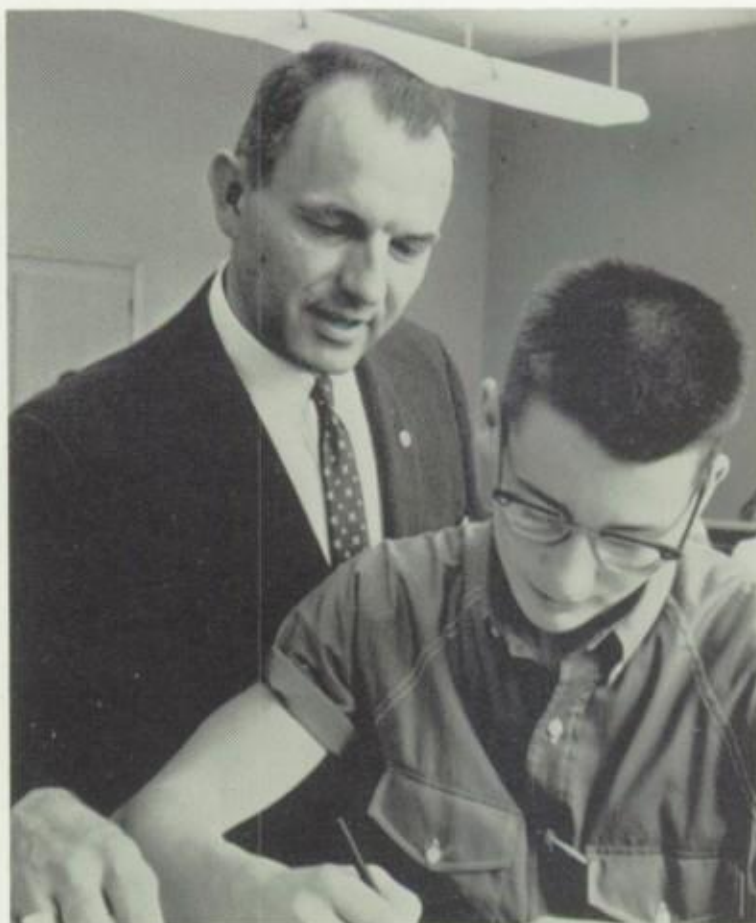

Mr. Ronald Rhode, art instructor exclaims, "Oh! Another Rembrandt!"

Industrial Fine Arts Department included the Art, Shop and Mechanical Drawing courses which formed hidden talents and developed them to the fullest degree. Perfection was a determining factor in all accomplishments! The Art Department was also responsible for all projects such as scenery for plays, centerpieces for various occasions, and posters for functions within the school. These departments added personality to our school.

Mr. Olin Marth instructs students how to read a voltmeter during one of the shop classes.

Mr. Robert Bukowski, industrial arts teacher, ponders over his students' work.

Mr. Quentin Keath, while he instructs a pupil in one of his mechanical drawing classes thinks, "This is surely different from directing the majorettes."

Mr. Harold Stefl instructs puzzled seniors on Trigonometry problems.

Mr. Glenn Miller, new addition to the mathematics department, teaches tenth grade Algebra II students.

Mathematics Department

Mathematics can be fun, so people say. Here at Muhlenberg many students found this to be true. Courses in algebra, plane geometry, trigonometry and calculus developed many "Hamlets," or in plain words, thinkers. These courses developed a sense of values for students and helped to progress the "gray matter" for future problems, whether it be for engineers, technicians, or homemakers.

Mr. Robert Knouse goes over homework problems with ninth grade algebra students.

Mr. Carl Richie explains plane geometry problems to a troubled eleventh grade student.

Mr. Henry Hoffman, music director, points out the correct notes and remarks, "The music is on the stand, not on the blackboard."

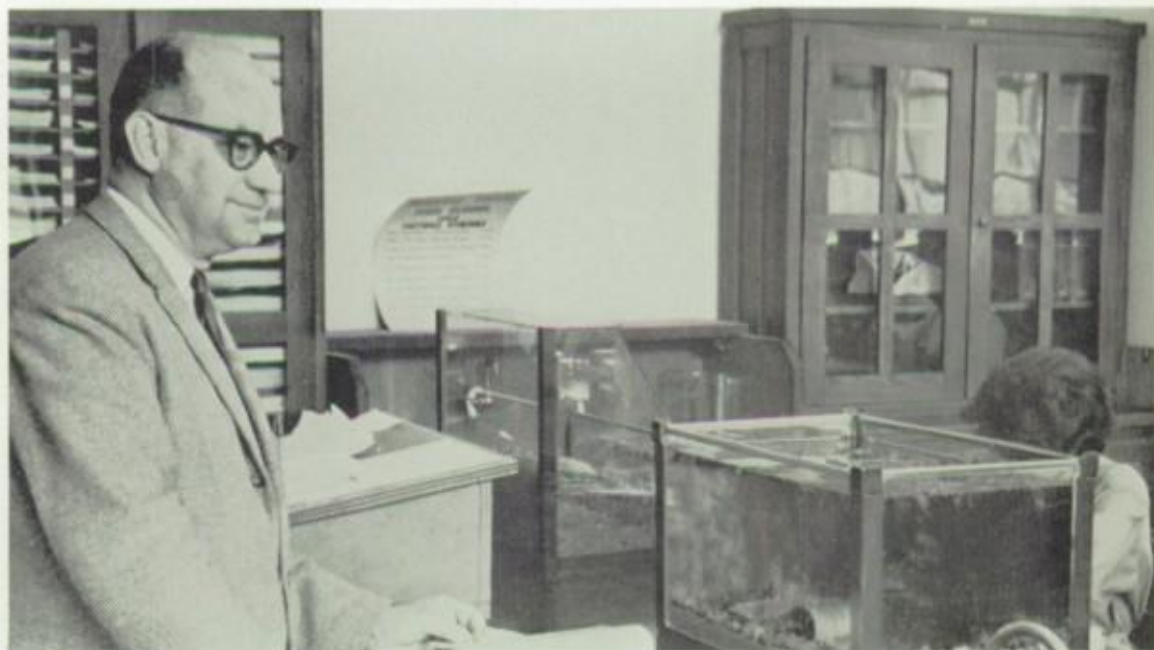

The Music Department has reached heights in many categories and given students a challenge in many respects. This department reigns over the bands, choruses, and entertainments of the school and gives opportunity to any pupil with musical abilities.

Miss Alta Horton, music instructor, keeps time as a ninth grade begins its vocal music class.

Music and Science Departments

The Science Department provides many opportunities for creativity among students. The annual science fair is composed of projects completed from biology, physics, and chemistry classes. In this project students display their imagination, brilliancy and knowledge by an intricate or simple exhibition. The science program, promoted by its instructors, is a well-rounded course with excellent supervision to better enable pupils to a fuller understanding of this great mechanized society in which we live today.

Mr. Myron Boyer, biology teacher, remarks, "Let's not butcher, remember we're dissecting!"

Mr. Claude Spancake, physics and chemistry teacher, says, "Not all specific gravity tests are always this bad!"

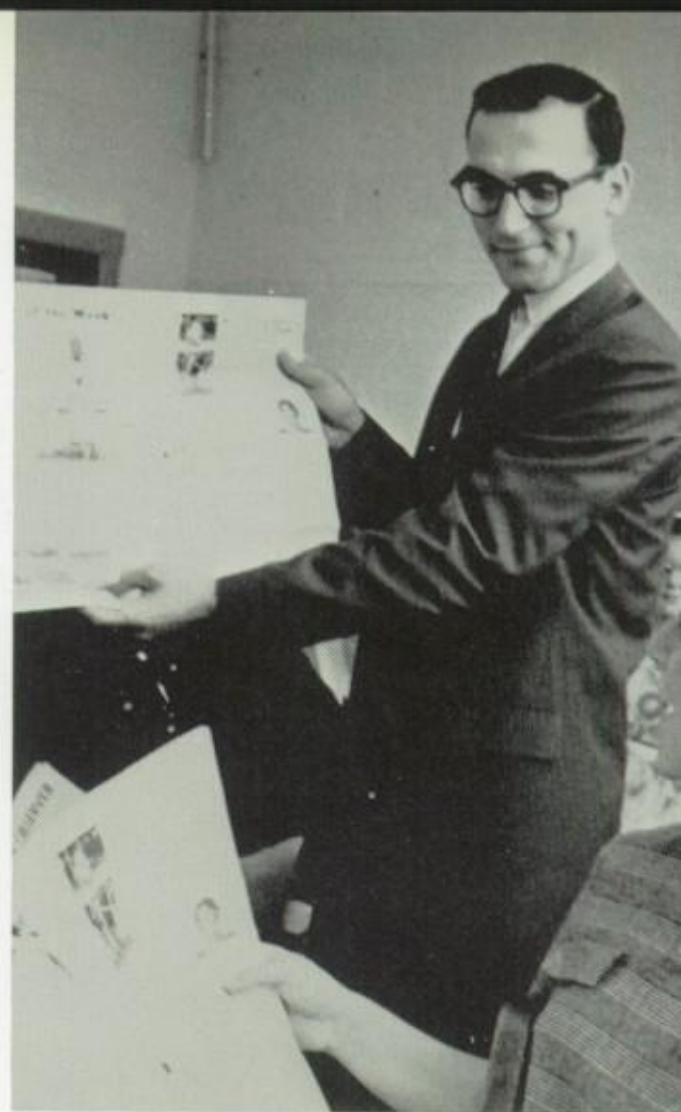

Mr. Robert Stickles, biology and physics instructor, jokingly asks his class to "Get to the root of the problem."

Mr. Matthan Sell, general science instructor, remarks to his students, "Don't tell me your notebooks are in the aquarium!"

Mr. Edmond Ettinger, history instructor—"Oh really! You say there's a wall over there?"

Mr. Natale DeLuca, World Culture and Civics teacher, adds a bit of humor to the discussion of current events.

Mr. Victor Yarnell uses visual aids in class.

Mr. Carl Strittmatter, Civics instructor, explains, "Did you know William Penn never lived in Mount Penn?"

Social Studies Department

"One of these days I'll learn to work this thing; then we'll see the film," remarks Mr. Ray Weitzel as his students impatiently wait.

Gaiety and

Y-Teens is an active club at Muhlenberg High School throughout the entire school year. Under the capable leadership of Miss Frances Rahn, guidance counselor, it holds six main events which start in December and continue into May. Along with the main occurrences, the club also brings in people from outside the school to talk to the girls on various topics. First happening of the year comes in the beginning of December when the group holds its annual Spaghetti Supper. Next on the agenda is the Valentine's Day Dance. This year they approached the dance in a different manner by having nominees for a King of Hearts, who was to have been the most-liked personality in the senior class. Shortly following the dance is the Fashion Show in Reading for brides-to-be. The Y-Teens always contribute its senior members to model, which gives them experience and poise while appearing before a group. Then they model in their own fashion show at the school and gather door prizes, which again is another chance for them to meet others. At the end of the year, the senior members of the organization take a trip to New York, giving them a chance to view the city and visit designated places, while they have the opportunity of being together very closely for the last time.

Hi-Y

School Support, Spiritual Development and Financial Aid Constitute Club's Goals

This service organization, which is under the advisership of Mr. Claude Spancake, was established to create, promote, and maintain religious living. These goals were fulfilled under the leadership of Tim Cordier, president, Robert Snyder, vice president, and Jerry Schoener, Chaplain. Douglas Moyer, secretary, and Edward Forry, treasurer, also assisted by maintaining the group's records. During the football season this association decorated the goal posts. At Christmas they performed the kind and charitable act of giving baskets of food to needy persons. They contributed to the community welfare by collecting for the heart fund in March. The members of Hi-Y have shown their dedication to the school by sponsoring an assembly program in October and by presenting the varsity lettermen with trophies. Both Hi-Y and our school were represented by Edward Forry and Walter Dieterle who attended the Hi-Y Model Legislature in Harrisburg. By serving as Senators, they took part in the running of the government. These undertakings and helpful actions are examples of loyalty, consideration, assistance, and sincerity, which merit our lasting appreciation and gratefulness.

Horizon Club

Girls Seek "New" Horizons

"Broadening their horizons," the Senior Horizon Club Girls under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Rhoades, sponsor, certainly carried out the purpose as they busied themselves with many activities throughout the year. Basically being a service club, these former Camp Fire Girls undertook various community projects. Several of their meetings were devoted to wrapping bandages for the Reading Hospital while several girls volunteered to give some of their time to such organizations as the Blind Association, Berks Heim, Reading Public Library, and Fellowship House, and when Heart Fund Sunday rolled around, I bet you can guess which girls went from door to door calling for the Heart Fund! Besides these, they took advantage of the opportunities surrounding them as they toured the David Crystal Dress Factory and Quaker Maid Kitchens.

Other meetings were devoted to a gift wrapping demonstration by the Bell Telephone Company and cooking at the Metropolitan Edison Company. In February the club entered a table setting contest. Choosing Springtime as their theme and with a lot of effort, this artistic bunch came out the winners. By engaging in some money making projects, such as cake sales, Italian sandwich sales and a nationwide candy sale, these eager beavers plan to further their horizons by taking a trip to Niagara Falls in June.

National Honor Society

Organization Shines On Outstanding Status

Several outstanding seniors were elected by the faculty to an honorary organization, the National Honor Society. This annual election, which takes place in March, is an acknowledgment of the contributions of these seniors in character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

The emblem of the Honor Society consists of the keystone and the flaming torch. The keystone is placed by the builder as a symbol of the high ideals of this society: character, scholarship, leadership, and service. The flaming torch is the emblem of its purpose to bear the light of truth to lead so that others may follow in the light, and to keep burning in the school a high ambition for the enduring values of life.

With the guidance of Mrs. Bodolsky, these students published the school handbook and made visitors welcome throughout the school year.

The members of the National Honor Society are the outstanding citizens of the future, but their worth is only as great as the respect they receive or contribute individually.

The Student Council, under the advisership of Mr. William Abramowicz, works throughout the year trying to better the school. There are three main projects which are sponsored by Student Council—the Holly Hop, the Council Kickoff and the selling of programs at football and basketball games. During the summer, active members work to gather the needed materials and ideas for the council's programs in order that every thing is ready in September. The Holly Hop, which is one of the biggest dances of the school year, is planned in detail almost one whole year previous to the dance. A lot of time has to be taken for the selection of a good band, decorations, and committee organizations. Council Kickoff is the first dance of the year. Introducing the new students, sophs, and freshmen to the Juniors and Seniors, and also to enrich one's high school social life constitute its purposes. In the beginning of the year, usually in November, Student Council members from all over Berks County meet at the Student Council Convention where they discuss their problems and share their money making ideas. Every year a different school is host to this conference, which is considered an honor to attend. Our school, as well as others, profits greatly from attending the conference. Student Council operates as one voice—a voice to the students of Muhlenberg. This "voice" does not always reprimand them, but instead asks for their assistance to reach a main goal, making Muhlenberg a better school.

Mixed Chorus

Muhl Choral Crew Continues Musical Crusade

Each year at occasions such as the Christmas Assembly, Easter Assembly, and Spring Concert, the Muhlenberg Mixed Chorus, under the direction of Miss Alta H. Horton, renders several vocal compositions.

In addition to these events, however, there are various other opportunities for the Muhl songsters to display their voices. Churches in and around the Muhlenberg area were delighted by Miss Horton's nightingales. These churches were Calvary Lutheran, Laureldale, Rosedale Reformed, Laureldale, Faith E. C., Temple, and United Church of Christ, also in Temple.

But this was far from all the work of the chorus. All these programs needed hours and hours of work for preparation. Early morning sessions starting at 7:30-8:30 were necessary at least twice a week for the one hundred and four vocalists under Miss Horton's wing. 49

Muhlaire and Muhleteers

Guy and Gal Songsters Grant Service to School

While the Mixed Chorus supplies music for concerts, the Muhleteers and Muhlaire, the boy group and girl group, respectively, perform for social events around the area.

The Muhlaire consist of 17 girls and the Muhleteers of 17 boys. They sing for functions such as Women's Club meetings and church social groups. In addition to this, they also render their services by singing vocal numbers in concerts and assemblies. Miss Alta Horton directs these groups.

Could you help me find this book? Do you have any reference material on John Dewey? These are a few of the many questions which are asked of the members of Library Club by unsure students trying to find their way about Muhlenberg's library. Besides answering questions, the members of the Library Club also busy themselves by keeping the library in a neat and orderly fashion, pasting pockets on books, putting on book jacket covers, and keeping a nice display on the library bulletin board. They also have the unpleasant task of over due book notices to forgetful students. The members help our librarian, Mrs. Mary Jo Winings, by working behind the desk checking books in and out. They perform this task before and after school and during their study periods. As members of Library Club, students learn basic library procedures, library arrangements, and responsibility.

Football games, parades, and National Honor Society assembly were just a few of the many times Muhlenberg students were greatly entertained by the sounds of the Blue Band under the direction of Mr. Henry Hoffman. Lively drills on the football field, the rendition of pep songs, along with jazz and show tunes and excellent ratings in the Christmas parade required the band members and Mr. Hoffman to stand up and receive their well-deserved laurels. To achieve their present standard, band members spent many hours of practice and drilling before school, during activity period and in sectional rehearsals, which gave each member close instruction and supervision in his particular field. However, all their work was well worth the effort. To round out the year, the Band held their annual concert in May, at which time parents as well as students could review the accomplishments and the finished product of the '62-'63 year.

Show Band

Mellow Musicians Master Many Melodies

A small group of talented and well-groomed musicians, under the direction of Mr. Henry Hoffman, added much to the enjoyment of assemblies and pep rallies with their presentation of popular and standard music. At pep rallies students were introduced to the '62-'63 band, and were pleased immediately with what they heard.

Color Guard

Girls Guard Colors Carefully

"Right Face! Forward march!" Sound like an army sergeant? No, it was just Linda Bucks, color guard captain, as she barked signals at her fellow standard bearers, Cheryl Bieber, Sharon Bennethum, Sandra Kocur, Susan Deprill, Diane Guistwite, Linda Hower during their many half time and pre-game performances during the football season.

These girls, under the supervision of Mr. Henry Hoffman, assisted by Mr. Quentin Keath, spent many hours of drilling during the hot summer months in order to present the colors and standards of Muhlenberg at all the football games, parades, and in the majorette show.

Throughout the football season the majorettes with their masterful precision have provided incentive, enthusiasm and spirit for both the team and spectators.

Their fine performances are examples of long, hard practice and good supervision by Mr. Quentin Keath, director. This practice began at Red Lion, Pennsylvania, where for three days they were taught new stunts and learned how to improve their fundamentals.

With the close of the Majorette Show, the annual high light of the majorettes' year, the tenth and eleventh grade girls bade farewell to eight seniors who have worked hard and contributed greatly to the majorettes reputation of excellence and skill. These girls were Shirley Reese, field marshal; Jane Wilson, flag leader; Kris Gustantino, Joyce Meck, and Faith Robertson, flag twirlers; Christine Tobias, and Diane Fairchild, senior batons; and Susan Wertz, band majorette.

The perfect co-ordination and team work exemplified by the organization combined with fine leadership and long training are the true reasons why Muhlenberg's majorettes hold such a high rating.

The Observer staff for this year consisted of Linda Reed, News Editor; Shirley Reese, Feature Editor; Susan Wertz, Back Page Editor; and Tim Braun, Sports Editor. Besides publishing the Observer, this group gained additional experience in writing. This group also tried to maintain the second place rating which last year's Observer won in the Pennsylvania School Press Association.

F.T.A.

Leaders of Tomorrow Gain Experience Today

From apple-polishing to gangster pranking is what you may encounter during a typical day if you enter the famed profession of educational counseling, or more simply, school teaching. To educate others is an honorable privilege which brings satisfaction. There is one club at Muhlenberg set up especially to advocate the teaching profession, the Future Teachers of America club. Consisting of about thirty-five members from tenth to twelfth grade, this club's purpose is to aid students in finding out if teaching is the vocation they would like to choose. F.T.A. which meets about once a month is presided over by June Wilson, president; Mary Shomper, vice pres.; Holly Knepp, sec.-treas.; and Mike Mehle, program chairman. Miss Frances Rahn, guidance counsellor, is adviser. Student teaching and observing are the club's main activities. Once a week each member goes to observe the classroom of their choice, ranging from kindergarten to twelfth grade, during a free period. At their monthly meetings the future teachers give a summary of what they did and saw.

Better Business Principles Practiced

Commercial students in the tenth, eleventh, twelfth grade meet with their adviser, Mr. Joseph Butz, to participate in the activities of the Business Leaders of America Club, which is sponsored on the local level and the national level by the National Business Education Association.

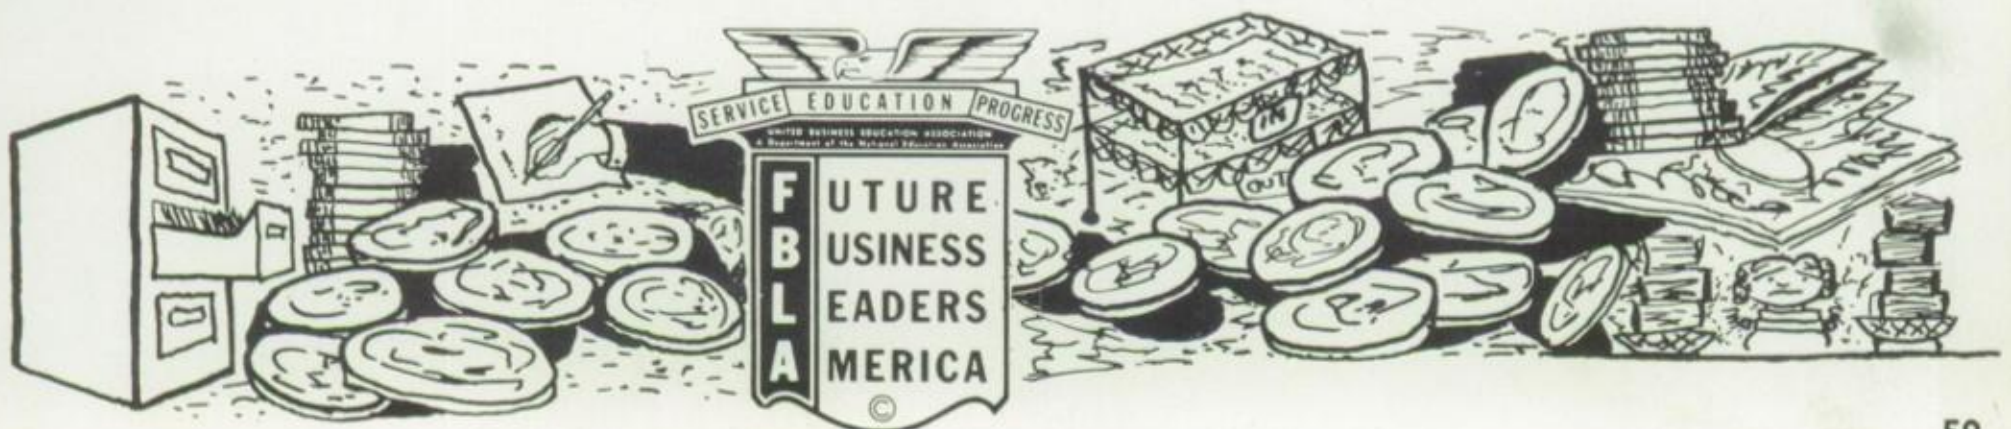

Activities of the club during the year included cake sales, spelling bees and an assembly program entitled "Battle of the Classes."

Cheryl Bieber was president of the organization. The vice president is Rosalyn Bloedow; secretary Carolyn Boyer and treasurer, Loretta Kramer.

The purposes of the club were twelve-fold. Among these were to develop competent, aggressive business leaders, to strengthen the confidence of young men and women in their work and in themselves, to create more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupation and to improve and to establish standards for entrance into store and office occupations.

Group Readies World of Sound, Lights and Flats

Administering sound effects, setting up scenery, developing new and better lighting techniques are just a few of the things which are produced by the stage crew. Also included in their busy schedule is helping with props for school assembly programs, class play Muhi Revue, various rehearsals, or whenever their assistance may be called for on the stage. Some of their time is spent during night rehearsals for the school and sometimes activities not concerned with the school.

Stage Craft Club

Club Centers Activities Around Creativity and Criticism

One of Muhlenberg's newly formed clubs is the Stage Craft Club which is under the leadership of Mr. Ronald Rhode. When the Stage Craft Club was first added to the school's activity program, many students wondered what was the purpose of this club. Mr. Ronald Rhode revealed that the Stage Craft Club was formed to prepare scenery for the special assemblies and programs throughout the year.

Members of this club also produce special properties for such events as May Day, the Junior and Senior Class Plays, the Muhi Revue, the Band Concert, and the Spring Concert.

Membership of the Stage Craft Club is open to all grades and the club is conducted somewhat like an art class.

Another job of stagecraft members is to design stage settings and provide special properties for particular plays.

Stage Craft Club was also organized to give the students interested in the theatrical world the opportunity to study theatrical make-up and production techniques.

Throughout the school year, stage craft members learn how flats are constructed, the techniques of painting scenery, and to create special effects.

If any student is interested in the field of art and the theatrical world, joining the Stage Craft Club would be a very reliable experience.

Students Direct Traffic in Hallways

"Hey, turn around! You're walking on the wrong side of the hall!" This might be one of the several comments made by the hall patrol to students of M.T.H.S.

The hall patrol has the job of keeping dazzled students moving in the proper direction and at a proper rate of speed to prevent congesting. These boys also help with fire drills and air raid drills. To sum it up they have general supervision of students through the halls.

Mr. Claude Spancake, adviser of Hall Patrol, stated that for the service these boys give, they receive a letter at the end of the year.

Debating Club

Club Reads, 'Rites, Rebuts

Resolved: that the United States should take a more forceful policy toward Cuba." Through much preparation and hard work, the debating club fully exerted itself in interscholastic meets at Hamburg, Muhlenberg, and Schuylkill Valley on March 6, 7, and 8 respectively. With the aid of advisers, Mr. Ray Weitzel and Mr. Jerome Martorana, this year's debaters learned to take criticism and thus better themselves. Out of the eight members of the club, the "Selected six" represented Muhlenberg on the debate panels. However, all eight members gathered information and shared their accumulated knowledge. Through much research and practice, these ambitious students learned to "dig" for the truth, speak it, and then be ready for the "rabble-rousing" rebuttal by the opposition.

The Model United Nations Club, advised by Mr. Ray Weitzel and Mrs. Jerome J. Martorana, added one more thing to their busy schedule this year, a trip to Canada Model U.N. Conference, at which Muhlenberg was the only U.S. school to participate. East Coast Model United Nations Conference was on the agenda again this year at Pierre S. DuPont High School in Wilmington, Delaware. Eight delegates represented Norway through the conference, April 5, 6, 7. To attend this conference, students were chosen according to ability, experience, club participation and co-operation, performance at previous Model U.N. conferences, and leadership. The main purposes of the club are to teach students how to think and talk in front of an audience, to learn to understand the problems and viewpoints of the peoples of other countries and to learn how the U.N. functions and its influence on world affairs.

Strikes and Spares Are Students' Goals

"Get that spare" are familiar words when bowling. This is a lot easier said than done. It takes many hours of practice and instruction to perfect this skill. Bowling club is one way of learning to bowl properly. The first step of instruction is films showing form and handling the ball properly. After learning the fundamentals, teams are formed. These teams then compete against each other. The clubs meet weekly at Laurel Lanes Bowling Alley. The purpose of the Boys' Bowling Club is to provide an opportunity to learn an activity with a great deal of carry over value. This club meets each Wednesday during the seventh period. There are twenty boys who participate. Their faculty adviser is Mr. Donald Delp. The Girls' Bowling Club consists of thirty-nine members, who meet every Tuesday during the seventh period. Biology Club

Activities Stimulate Further Interest in Biological Field

Biology club is an organization formed to arouse interest in the biological field. Students, wishing to join, have all the opportunity to gain further knowledge in all aspects of the biology realm. It also serves as an aid to those who plan a biological profession, which includes doctors, nurses, and X-ray technicians as well as biochemists, pathologists, biology teachers, bacteriologists and many others in the science profession. Since the start of the year the club has had two speakers, Dr. Jasper S. Chen See, a pathologist at St. Joseph's Hospital, and Mr. John J. Hoffman, Narcotics Investigator for the Department of Public Health. The students themselves have given panel discussions on Radiation and a debate on Socialized Medicine. There have also been films.

F.S.A.

Club Members Obtain Background for Future Occupations

Are you interested in continuing your career through scientific lines? If so why not join other students with the same likes and dislikes who are members of F.S.A., Future Scientists of America? Every Monday during the 7th period, class members, juniors and sophomores, attend a meeting which is conducted by Judy Dresher, president, 11-2, Ronald Reed, vice-president, 11-5, Filomena Rodino, secretary, 11-5, and Philip Mertz, treasurer, 10-6, under the guidance of Mr. Myron Boyer, biology teacher. Every month a different subject is selected and executed for a program. These topics are usually a variety of the scientific fields which holds the interest of someone in the club. For, example during the month of February, the club had a discussion on Mental Health and then in the following weeks a film and a speaker were presented to better illustrate the subject. In the beginning of the school year this educational club usually plans one large project, which will benefit the school or its increasing population. This year they had planned to aid the number of awards which were given at the Science Fair and also give a Grand Champion Award. Unfortunately there was a slight mix-up and the awards were not purchased in time.

Typing for all students was offered during the activities period. A typing club was held for students, primarily academic, who could not fit the course into their daily curriculum. They learned in a relatively short period of time, the basics of typing which could ordinarily be learned in a typing I class. Through much practice both during an activity period and at home, they have learned to become more self-sufficient and thus better collegebound students. Typing II club was held for any student who previously had typing during a class period. During seventh period, these students could practice technique, etc., and thus acquire more skill which will help them become more efficient in the secretarial course. Truly, typing club can be stated as an assist to all students. It not only is an aid to those in the secretarial course but also teaches self-sufficiency and the basic skills to academic students.

The practice was hard but worth while. It always helped us in the 3rd and 4th quarters when things started to get rough.

The sophomores dominated the squad with 26 members. With 8 juniors that will be returning Coach Stefl will have the job of shaping and conditioning them for the '63-'64 season.

Chosen as the Outstanding Athlete of Muhlenberg Township High School for the year 1962-63, is James Spinka.

Being somewhat short and well-built, Jim represented Muhlenberg in many sports throughout the year. In fall, Jim was found playing football, and later was chosen as a member on the Reading Eagle and Times All-County teams. Achieving the Knepp trophy in wrestling, he was Berks County champion in the 165 lb. class.

Also active in intramurals, Jim received trophies in shuffleboard and basketball. During track season, Jim was a weight lifting instructor.

As an all-around and devoted athlete, Jim gave his all to every sport, and most certainly deserved to be Muhlenberg's 1962-63 Outstanding Senior Athlete.

Pert and lively "Sandy" Lessig is equally capable of carrying the honors of being an outstanding athlete. Co-starring with Mariann, Sandy is definitely an asset to the Muhlettes, both in girls' basketball and hockey. In tenth grade when Sandy was sidelined with a broken shoulder, she proved her faithfulness by cheering her team to win. In intramural basketball, volleyball, hockey, and baseball, this able athlete led her girls on to victory and championship. Out-of-school recreation, which occupies Sandy's time, is yachting and swimming.

With an eye toward the future, Sandy plans to enter the field of physical education teaching. Muhlenberg will always appreciate the willingness and ability of Sandy Lessig.

Outstanding Sportsmen

Whether on the hockey field playing center halfback, on the basketball court as center guard, or at the varsity games cheering, Mariann Arbogast's enthusiasm and zeal could be easily felt by all bystanders. This perky '63 Yell Queen, because of her outstanding athletic ability and her tremendous school spirit, was selected as an outstanding girl athlete.

Though striving throughout the year to improve Muhlenberg's sportsmanship Mariann believes, "That there is plenty of room for improvement."

Muhlettes Tie for Second

Completion of the 1962 hockey season found the Muhlettes in a tie for second place with Wilson High School, and having a 4-2-2 record. Although their record was not perfect, their spirits were "tops" in both defeats as well as victories.

Along with the season the girls gained better sportsmanship, a willingness to fight harder for their goals, and never once gave up the challenge

Muhl Cagers Turn Satisfactory Season for Coach Steinmetz

Under Coach Steinmetz, the 1962-63 edition of the varsity bouncers completed their season with an even scoring record of 11-11. For the first time in the history of basketball at Muhlenberg four sophomores, Dan Calabria, Kerry Reppert, Barry Rapp, and Kent Weitzel donned varsity uniforms.

Wearing the blue and gold for the last time, were George Vogel and Terry Oxenreider. George, in his record season of Varsity competition, finished second in team scoring behind Calabria. Terry, also a two yearman teamed up with Tim Braun in the backcourt to play hustling and spirited ball throughout the entire campaign.

It was truly a year of trial and tribulation for Coach Steinmetz and his boys. However, the experience gained should be reward enough.

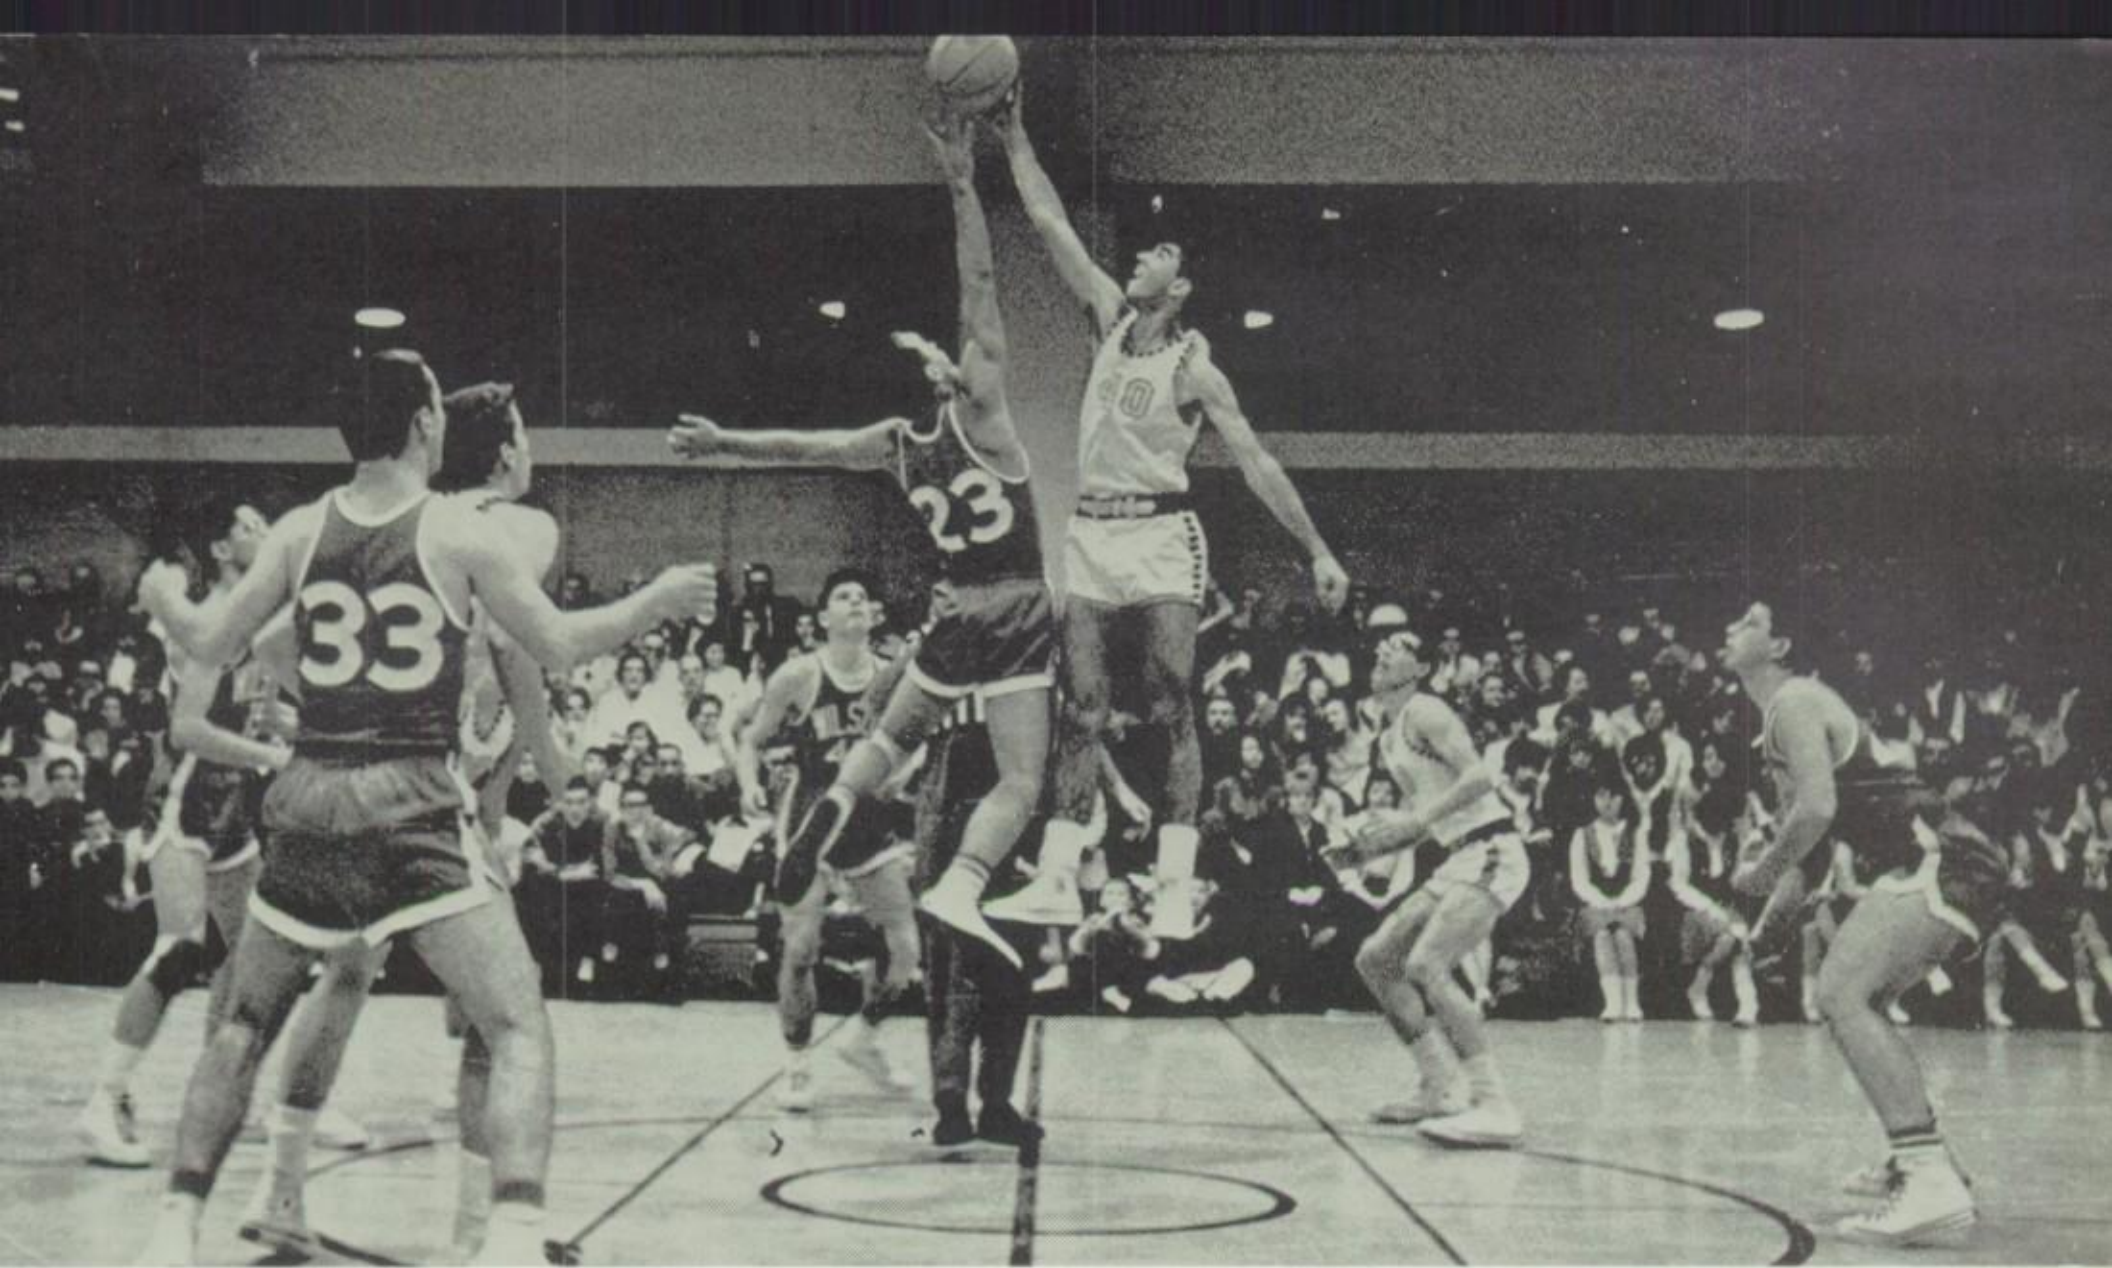

All eyes on the ball.

Lassies Lasso Central Division Laurels

Under the fine leadership of coach Miss Mary Jane Delp, the 1963 edition of the Muhlettes jostled a fine 0-1 record and the Central Division Championship. Only a slim 42-41 loss to Wilson, in the final game of the season stopped this fine team from jostling the initial undefeated girls basketball season in Muhlenberg's history.

Setting the scoring tempo during the season were Sandy Lessig, a fine guard, who scored 156 points for a 17 point average and forward Colette Clark, who scored 147 points with a 16 point average.

Sandy and Mariann Arbogast, an outstanding defensive demon, represented the only seniors on this year's squad.

With outstanding underclassmen like Colette, Peggy Oxenreider, Robin Fies and Holly Knepp the future looks bright.

Golf Record at .500 Mark

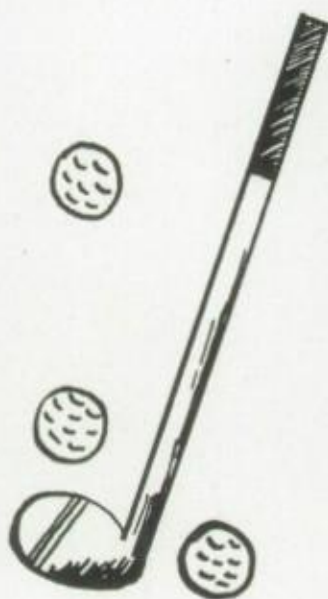

Losing only three men from this year's squad, the Muhl golf team should be a strong contender for county honors next year.

Playing 14 games of golf, the team had a record which stands at the .500 mark. On the green or off the tee, the team showed real spirit.

Mr. Jay Schmitt coached his team on to many victories and although they didn't run away with all the laurels, they acquired their share.

Even though golf is only a minor sport, there are always enough participants to field a team. Each year Muhlberg golf addicts hike from hole to hole enjoying their favorite sport.

Leading the scoring attack for the Muhlenberg wrestlers in '63 were the "fearsome foursome" comprised of Gary Badinger, Jim Spinka, Bobby Hanley and Terry Spinka.

Mr. Jerome Kochinsky, in his second campaign as coach, masterminded the blue and gold musclemen to a 3-7 record.

Hindering the Muhl attack was the lack of experience in the light weight divisions and also the loss of Terry Spinka. Terry sustained a broken foot about midseason.

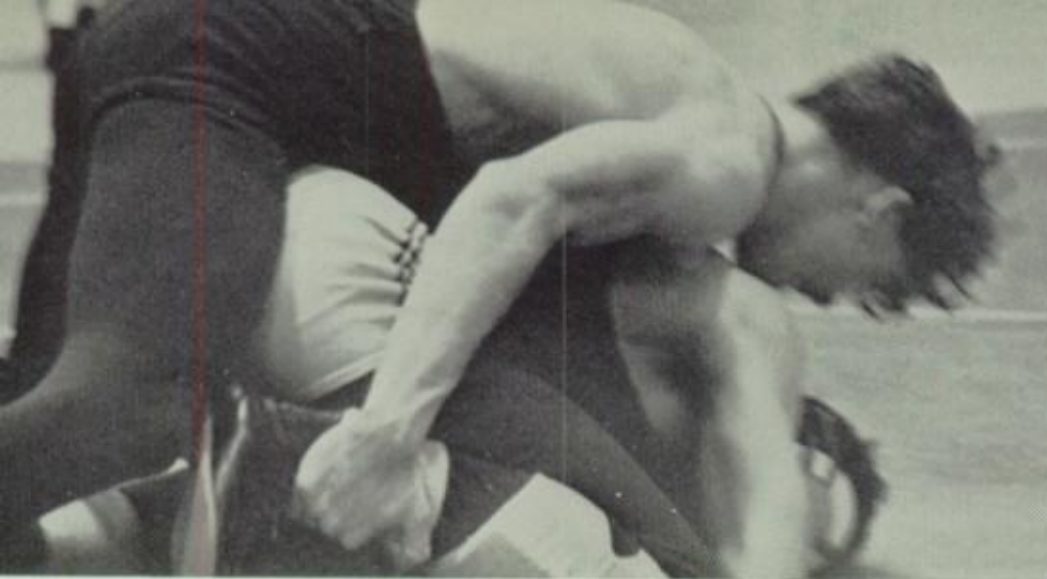

His brother, Jim, was the workhorse throughout the campaign losing only once. He later was victorious in District III competition.

It took a division playoff defeat at the hands of Hamburg to remove the Muhls from the title race. The Muhls finished at 7-3 to finish second.

Neil Brown, catcher and Royce Manwiller, second baseman will be the only starters lost through graduation. These two co-captains, both second year Varsity competitors, will be long remembered and greatly missed.

Cindermen Gain Status

Although not running away with all the laurels, Muhlenberg acquired its share, under the fine coaching of Mr. Glenn Miller, first year man. However, Mr. Miller was not completely overjoyed with the '63 Muhl putout, but he was satisfied with the team's performance.

There were many outstanding sportsmen among the 50 or more boys that participated on this year's track team. Sprinters Jerry Schoener and Dave Evans, Dave Weyandt, javelin and discus, Lee Reiniger, who was a more than adequate miler, and Freddy Snyder, who excelled in the pole vault and high jump, were among the most consistent scorers.

Congratulations are in store for Mr. Miller and his fine track team for their efforts and a record well earned.

Keith McLaughlin, discus thrower, performs under the watchful eye of amazed spectators.

Fred Snyder electrifies spectators as he completes his broad jump.

Girls Aid School and Give Assistance in Sports

The Girls' Athletic Association, better known as G.A.A., is an organization which is limited to girls who participate in the provided sports program. Miss Mary Jane Delp is the adviser.

In order to be an active member, each girl must participate in either intramural or varsity sports sometime during the year. She must also attend meetings which are held every third Thursday of each month.

Activities sponsored by the club are the following: a cake sale held at a local drug store, for which the girls themselves baked—the annual January dance, "All School Round-Up," to which Schuyl. Valley, Twin Valley, Governor Mifflin, Wilson, and West Rdg. were invited as opponents of the Muhlettes in the hockey and basketball seasons,—a trip to Swarthmore to view a college tournament of hockey—and a Bowling Play-Day for nearby schools as well—a Volleyball Play Day participation at another school—the selling of refreshments at all home baseball games—and the grand finale is the camping trip to the Blue Mountain Y.W.C.A. Camp, where the girls will have a chance to play sports day in and day out.

Club

Live of Sports

If you are a boy interested in athletics at Muhlenberg, then the Varsity Club is the club to join. Under the leadership of Mr. Carl W. Richie, the club engages in sports as well as viewing films dealing with sporting events.

To gain admission into this particular club, boys must have received at least one varsity letter in one of the sports.

Varsity Club president was the outstanding football halfback, Ed Reese, the vice-president was an All-County football player, Jim Spinka as well as Richard DeGuardi who served as the club's secretary for the third consecutive year, and the last officer, the treasurer, was track star, Jerry Schoener who "ran" the money matters.

Selling Easter eggs was the biggest project of the club's and was for the sole purpose of paying the services of a football trainer.

Among the members of this year's club were football, baseball, basketball players, golfers, swimmers, wrestlers, track, and cross country men which goes to show the club is open to any sports-minded individual.

Circle of victory spurs on crowd.

Exuberant rooters scream to cheers.

THE ENTIRE CAST OF OUTWARD BOUND—Pictured below is the entire cast of the drama Outward Bound, including narrator, student director, property chairman and cast.

(Below) ARE WE ALL DEAD, SCRUBBY? Below is James Papola asking Warren Greth the scary question.

(Right) I WON'T LEAVE YOU, ANNE! That is the reply Larry Endy gave to lover, Michele Czarnecki when she asked him, "Can they separate us?"

Seniors Set Sail

The Class of 1963 offered as its Senior production the British classic, Outward Bound by Sutton Vane. This allegoric comedy-drama deals with humanistic appraisals of death and immortality. It is a play that utilizes symbolism, good humor, and suspense in a retelling of the human comedy in an eerie, matrix. The passengers of a sinister ocean liner gradually learn that they are destined for Eternity. Although the play teems with good British talk, action is not sacrificed especially as the denouement nears.

After many weeks at a "labor of love," the members of the cast presented this difficult and mature production to an audience that was more than receptive and intrigued by its wit, charm, and speculation. The entire cast performed yeoman thespian service; moreover, outstanding solo efforts were given by James Papola as the cynical and by David Vogel as the pompous, philistine Mr. Lingley. The Director, E. A. Ettinger, with much collegiate and university summer theater work among his exploits, feels that mature theater has arrived at M.T.H.S. The Class of '63 has certainly vindicated his claim.

"Help me, Miss Examiner." This reply came from Dave Vogel when it came his turn to be examined by examiner, Rose Anne Greenawalt.

"Do my lines sound O.K., maid?" Asks Sandra Kocur, narrator, as Susan Wertz, maid, listens.

"Oh, yes, Reverend." Elsa Rhoads replies as she speaks at the bar with Robert Germann.

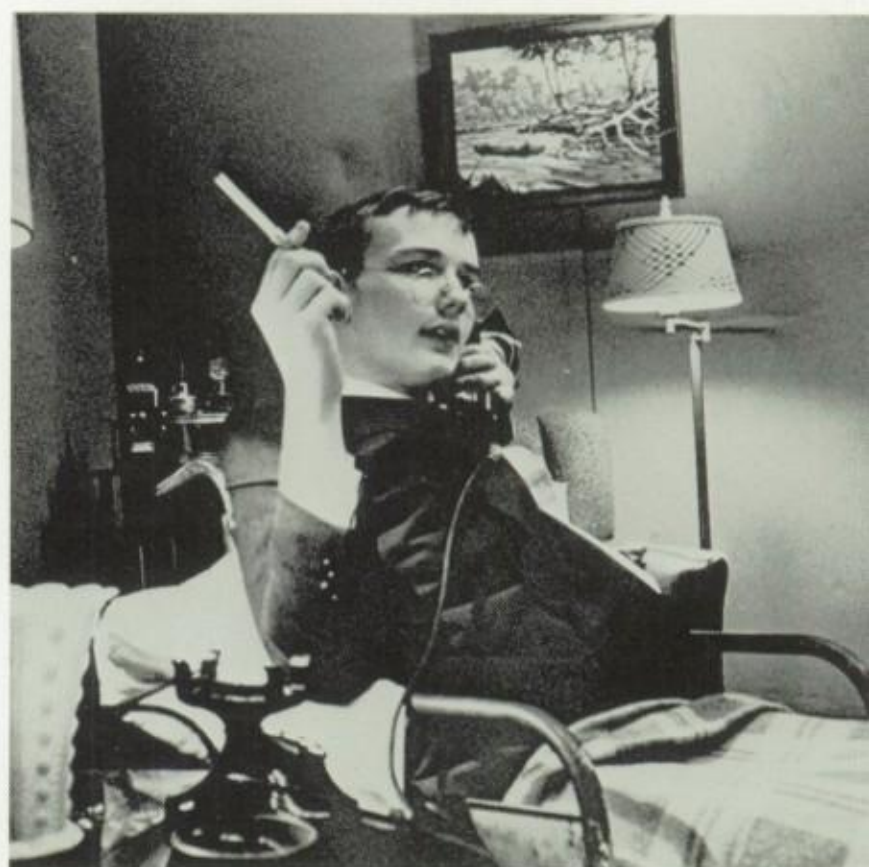

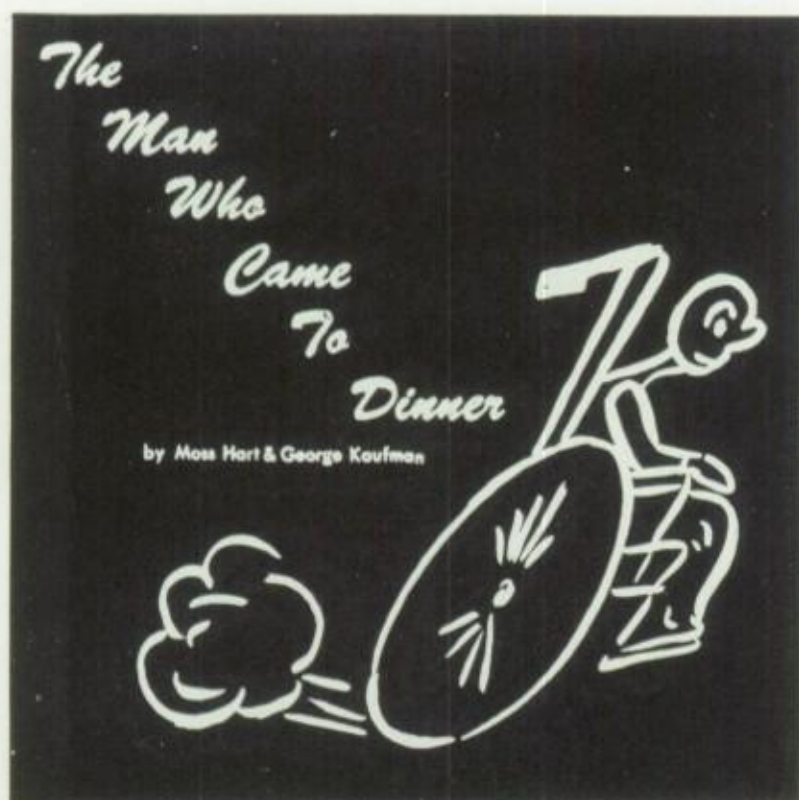

Deep in thought is Mr. Edmund Ettinger, director.

The Class of '64 presents

"The part is just right for you Lorraine dear, so hurry right out here." explains Darryl Conner, who portrays Sheridan Whiteside in the junior class play.

THE CAST

The Man Who Came To Dinner is most representative of the American comic theater. It is a satire, though not in the mode of Swift or Shaw, based on the life and half-factual, half-legendary exploits of the eminent American author-humorist, Alexander Woollcott. America has never achieved the depth of true European satire, which began with Aristophanes and continues through Brecht and Beckett. A commercialized and very theatrical ending deprives Man of the quality of classic satire; nevertheless, the barbs of invective and the sardonic blasts are in abundance. The character of Sheridan Whiteside (really Woollcott) is redeemed in Act III by having him come to the rescue of true love. This may resemble soap opera or The Perils of Pauline in execution, but the play finds its own redemption in dialogue and biting wit, which still has much of its impact twenty-four years after its Broadway debut. (1939).

"But uh . . . uh . . . Mr. Stanley you could . . . could injure one doing things like this . . ." stammers Henry Hafer, left, as R. Bahner seems to be ready to hit the floor because of George E. mistaken blow. The only person in a very serene position is Stanley Griesemer, center.

"Why, it's . . . it's you, Walt old boy!" exclaims Darryl Conner, as Daniel Hoffman and Marie Knutson stand in the background.

"Are you planning to chop her up into a salad bowl too Henderson?" asked one of the gangsters.

"I think it needs a little more expression here . . ." says Beth Seidel, standing left, student producer.

"Oh! You don't know how wonderful you have made me feel, dear," emotionally utters Judy Kohl in to the telephone during Act II.

MUHL REVUE '63

April 21, 22

Let's kick, girls. The seniors' kick line made its final appearance.

Linda Bucks added her vocal talents to the show and proved that a Muhlaire, too, can sing!

"Give me a little kiss! Will ya, huh?" The boy-girl dance line combined both vocal and dance talents to the show.

If you need a fish story, go to Dick Christ. He sat all night without a bite.

Three peas in a pod. The pages Eileen Steely, Sue Deprill, and Carol Wise added their part to the show.

at Muhl Revue '63.

Supplying the instrumental music for the show was the Show Band under the direction of Mr. Henry Hoffman.

RoseAnne Greenawalt added humor to the show by appearing in the role of Gabel Gertie.

Satire, Comedy, Dance, and Music Set Pace for Variety Show

Accompanied by Jeff Hammond on the guitar, the Manhattans harmonized to the strains of "Puff, the Magic Dragon."

"Smile, everyone! It's curtain call." The entire cast of the Muhl Revue '63 takes its final bow.

Eight Girls Achieve Top

Ranking tenth in the class of '63 was JoEllen Ammarell. Debating and U. N. Club gave her valuable experience in public speaking, while her radiant smile and quiet demeanor contributed to her ladylike grace.

Nancy Althouse placed ninth in the senior class. Although Nancy was quiet and unassuming, she could be depended upon to do her assignment well and accurately whether it was homework, secretarial work, or part of her work experience program.

Dwight Moser attained the eighth place. Dwight's love for tropical fish was well known as were his easy going ways which hid a lively sense of humor that at times managed to come to the fore.

Placing seventh in the class was Susan Leinbach. Susie, the perfect individualist, was not afraid to voice her opinion; a trait that gained her much respect and admiration by people less willing to speak.

Carol Fromm attained sixth place in the class of '63. Carol's quiet personality and small stature did not overshadow an alert brain and forceful manner.

Two Boys

Academic Positions

Fifth in the class was Carol Burkert. Carol, blessed with an independent air, was ready and willing to offer her opinion on almost any subject that might be suggested.

Joseph Julian ranked fourth in the senior class. Joe's satirical sense of humor and high ideals of sportsmanship were evident in both classrooms and sports.

Attaining third place in the class of '63 was Eileen Steely. Her election as May Queen proved that she possesses not only brains but also good looks and a vibrant personality.

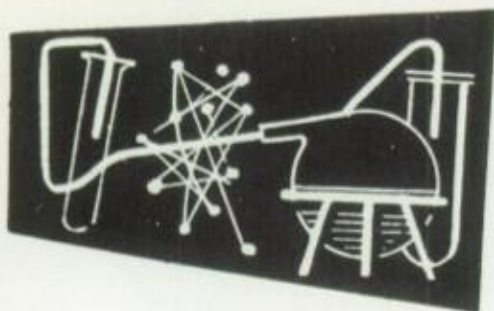

Patricia Starke was salutatorian of the class of '63. Pat's lively personality was evident not only in the classroom but also in girls' sports and cheerleading activities.

Valedictorian of the class of '63 was Linda Reed. Linda's quiet manner sometimes hid her competitive spirit and her determination to do her best to meet and conquer every challenge presented her.

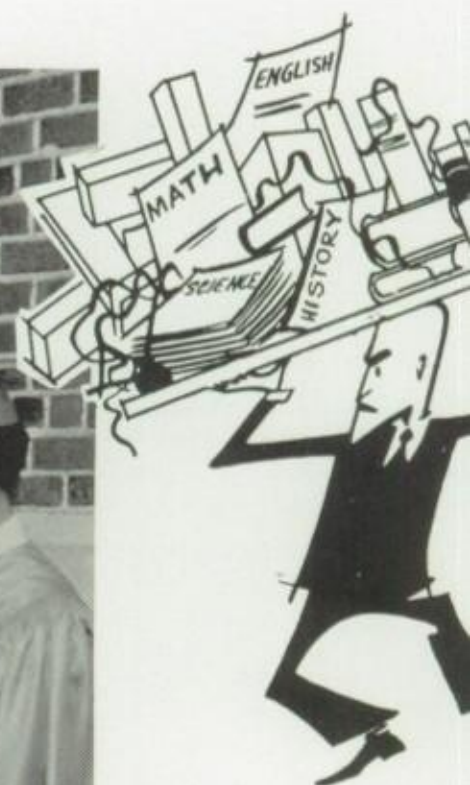

Standing academically at the top of the class of '63 are eight girls and two boys. Of these top ten, seven are academic students and three are commercial students. The top ten displayed their leadership abilities in extracurricular activities as well as in classrooms. Each one is proof that an intelligent individual need not be only a bookworm, but can also be a well rounded person interested in all phases of life.

This year, for the first time, academic awards were given to students excelling in academic subjects in grades ten, eleven, and twelve. Each winner received a blue blazer with the school emblem on the pocket. To win a blazer, the student had to have the highest average in a subject. This average was tabulated by averaging his classroom grades and the grade he received in a special test on that subject. Four boys and four girls, a boy and a girl for each subject, in each grade received the awards.

Academic Recognition

Senior blazer winners. SEATED in the usual order: Linda Reed, Eileen Steely, Carol Burkert. STANDING: Joseph Julian, Jerry Schoener, Patricia Starke, Warren Ulle, and Warren Greth.

Carl. STANDING: David Fetterman, Charles Whitehead, Darryl Conner, and Barry Humbert.

We, the members of the senior editorial staff, offer our heartfelt thanks to the people who have helped us make this yearbook possible.

To Mr. Andrew Purdon and Mr. Robert Rasbridge we say, "A job well done. We found both patient, good-natured, and hard-working photographers. You were indeed indispensable assets to our 1963 yearbook."

To Mr. Ronald Rhode and the art staff we say, "Thank you for taking our theme, 'Space,' and putting it into drawings which express the ideas so well."

To Mr. Glenn H. Woods we can only say, "Without you there would be NO book! Your ideas, work, and headaches were not in vain. We realize with a staff of only three senior members it was not an easy task to see the yearbook develop from the planning stage to the finished product."

To the administration and faculty we say, "Thanks for your cooperation during those trying picture-taking days."

To Mr. Lawrence L. Imboden we say, "Thank you for supervising the typing of the names in the index."

To Mr. Norman N. Wismer and his business staff we say, "Thank you for handling the business end of the book. You are a very important part of this organization."

And last, but not least, we wish to thank the members of Journalism I who took over the many duties when no one else wanted to do the many small jobs that must be done to create a book. You were a great help."
